Jones The several chapters comprising this report represent the various lines of investigation pursued under the direction of the late Professor Harry C. Jones during the year 1915-16 and in the case of the work of Davis and Johnson continued in 1916-17. Although somewhat diverse in nature, they all bear directly or indirectly upon the conceptions of solution in general and of solvation in particular which have been developed in this laboratory during the past fifteen years. Dr. Hulburt and Dr. Hutchinson have measured the absorption coefficient of solutions of a number of salts in different DEGREES solvents for monochromatic radiation. They have calculated from this the molecular absorption coefficient for such solutions and have made a careful comparative study of the molecular absorption-concentration curves. The investigation of formamid as a solvent. begun by Davis and Putnam. has been continued by

Reviews

Unquestionably, this is the greatest job by any author. It really is simplistic but shocks inside the fifty percent in the book. I am just pleased to inform you that here is the greatest book i actually have go through within my own existence and could be he greatest ebook for at any time.
